NEW ENGLAND CENTER FOR
School Climate & Learning

The New England Center for School Climate and Learning offers a Spring Series of School Climate Workshops for teachers, school administrators, and parents.

The mission of the New England Center for School Climate & Learning is to help schools achieve greater academic success by promoting respectful teaching and improving school climate.

For more information about the New England Center for School Climate & Learning, the National School Climate Standards, or new national initiatives on school climate improvement, please go to www.msanh.com, email molly@msanh.com, or call us at 603-428-8706.

Spring Bullying Workshop Series includes a Virtual Learning Tool for Districts. Virtual Books (vBooks) will be created at each of these workshops. Each registered participant will receive details.

NEW ENGLAND CENTER FOR
School Climate & Learning

Molly Gosline is the director of the newly formed New England Center for School Climate & Learning and a school climate consultant at Main Street Academix.

Formerly the director of the Office of Safe & Drug-Free Schools and Communities for the State of New Hampshire, Ms. Gosline's professional focus continues to be on creating positive learning communities for students. Molly previously worked as an elementary and middle school guidance counselor in Massachusetts and New Hampshire schools. Prior to entering guidance, Ms. Gosline coordinated the research efforts of Project IF's community based programs at the Harvard Graduate School of Education, the Girl Scouts of America and for the Center for Community-Based Research at the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. Ms. Gosline holds master's degrees in counseling psychology and in risk and prevention education from the Harvard Graduate School of Education.
